Risk Stratification – Preventative Care	Purpose - ‘Risk stratification for case finding’ is a process for identifying and managing patients who have or may be at-risk of health conditions (such as diabetes) or who are most likely to need healthcare services (such as people with frailty). Risk stratification tools used in the NHS help determine a person’s risk of suffering a particular condition and enable us to focus on preventing ill health before it develops. Information about you is collected from a number of sources including NHS Trusts, GP Federations and your GP Practice. A risk score is then arrived at through an analysis of your de-identified information. This can help us identify and offer you additional services to improve your health. If you do not wish information about you to be included in any risk stratification programmes, please let us know. We can add a code to your records that will stop your information from being used for this purpose. Please be aware that this may limit the ability of healthcare professionals to identify if you have or are at risk of developing certain serious health conditions. ACG / PNG Group Score (Johns Hopkins Adjusted Clinical Groups)	Purpose – You may notice a “test result” referring to an ACG or PNG Group Score within your NHS App or online medical record. The Johns Hopkins Adjusted Clinical Groups (ACG) and Patient Needs Groups (PNG) system is a nationally recognised NHS tool used to help health and care organisations understand patients’ overall health and care needs. It uses existing information in your GP record – such as diagnosed conditions, medications, test results and care episodes – to categorise patients according to the complexity and intensity of their health needs rather than single conditions. This helps the Practice and the NHS to: • Plan and deliver more personalised, proactive care; • Identify patients who may benefit from additional support; and • Improve how services are designed and delivered across the population. The information is not used for any financial, insurance or non-clinical purpose and does not affect your access to care or treatment. Your score will only be updated if your overall health has significantly improved or deteriorated (for example, a new long-term condition, or improved control of an existing one). Legal Basis – Direct Care and the management of health and social care systems: • UK GDPR Article 6(1)(e) – ‘...necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority...’; and • Article 9(2)(h) – ‘...necessary for the purposes of preventative or occupational medicine, medical diagnosis, the provision of health or social care or treatment, or the management of health or social care systems and services...’. Payments, Invoice validation	Purpose - Contract holding GPs in the UK receive payments from their respective governments on a tiered basis. There are also graduated payments made according to the practice's achievement of certain agreed national quality targets known as the Quality and Outcomes Framework (QOF), for instance the proportion of diabetic patients who have had an annual review. Practices can also receive payments for participating in agreed national or local enhanced services, for instance opening early in the morning or late at night or at the weekends. Practices can also receive payments for certain national initiatives such as immunisation programs and practices may also receive incomes relating to a variety of non-patient related elements such as premises. Finally there are short term initiatives and projects that practices can take part in. Practices or GPs may also receive income for participating in the education of medical students, junior doctors and GPs themselves as well as research. In order to make patient based payments basic and relevant necessary data about you needs to be sent to the various payment services. The release of this data is required by English laws.
